

Katherine joined the National Alliance on Mental Illness PBC (NAMI PBC) as director of programs in 2016, and advanced through the agency to the CEO role in 2023.

Katherine serves on the NAMI Florida Education Committee, ensuring NAMI Florida's state alliance offers strong programmatic support to all NAMI Florida affiliates. Katherine also serves on the Florida Mental Health Advocacy Coalition board of directors, helping to ensure that the voices of family members and peers are represented in Tallahassee.

She is very involved in the community, including serving as the Birth to 22: Becoming a Trauma Sensitive Community's Get Your Green On Campaign Co-chair, and is a current member of the Leadership PBC Engage class of 2025.

Her other nonprofit experience spans 15 years and includes roles developing programs and as a community educator, serving diverse populations.

Katherine earned a Bachelor of Liberal Arts at The Evergreen State College in Olympia, WA, and an Associate in Arts degree at Palm Beach State College.

Outside of work, she enjoys spending time in nature and exploring the many natural areas in Palm Beach County.
